Knowledge fair on Aug 28

Express News Service
Bangalore, August 2

JAIN Research Foundation is organising an international conference by the end of August, which will see more than 400 research papers on 44 disciplines.

A press release from the organisers said the foundation is organising the conference, Knowledge Utsav, in association with edu.in and University. It will be held on August 28 at Global campus of Jain University in Kanakapura.

The utsav will see research papers presented on 44 disciplines such as IT, engineering, management, humanities, nanotechnology, BT, robotics, green technology, energy and social science.

It is expected to connect individual researchers, scientists and research institutes to industry and investors.

The last date for researchers, faculty members, corporates, research and development organisations and students who want to participate in the utsav is August 9.

To participate, candidates should send their abstracts (in less than 250 words) along with the registration form to abstracts@knowledgeutsav.org. Alternatively, the abstracts can be sent via fax to 080-43430175.

Original research papers on recent developments are invited for oral, poster and Power-Point presentation. Around 400 entries would be selected to participate in the Knowledge Utsav. Those selected will be intimated by August 12. Registration forms can be downloaded from www.knowledgeutsav.org
