

An Appreciation Letter to Dr. R. Chenraj Jain - Chancellor, Jain University & Chairman, The JGI Group

Respected Dr. R Chenraj Jainji

I am one of those lucky parents to listen to your speech on 10.06.2010 delivered at the orientation programme for I Sem B.Com at 11.30. Since I had an inkling of your talking prowess I made it a point not to miss your other speeches and attended other orientation too on the previous day and the morning session at 8.00 am on 10.06.2010.

Sir, at the end of your speech in the interaction session though I was tempted to offer my comments, I withhold it for, what can I say about your talk. I felt it is like - "praising the sun for his light & brightness". And now I cannot suppress it anymore and hence this letter.

I am yet to come across a person who can match your skills. Your oratorical skill is simply unmatched and astounding. You are a mesmerizing orator. You can keep any audience spellbound and make them speechless by your speech. I am really dumfounded. The power of motivation in your speech is so intense that it can convert any cavalier person to an obliging one. Though you are the architect and 'founder of the JGI Group, you continue as its greatest ambassador. Two decades in an organizational life is too short a period by any standards. The fact that within this period your College has graduated into a "Deemed University" itself speaks volumes about your sight might & the right behind it called Dr. R Chenraj Jain. You are a phenomenon & an institution by yourself. Your student community & teaching fraternity must be truly blessed to have a mentor like RCJ. I only wish that they make best use of your myriad faculties.

Your passion to create a contingent of young entrepreneurs and thereby global leaders is laudable and praiseworthy. My ward is one of the continued beneficiaries of this unstinting passion. Majority in India do not practice what they preach. But you are a rare exception. When you said "Humanity is Religion", you have transcended all the artificial barriers of religion and truly conquered the spirit of the great saint Swami Vivekananda. Your intention to eradicate rural poverty and the charity you are directing towards alleviating this is noble. How lucky indeed the JGI Group to have a guiding force like RCJ!

May the almighty give you the health and energy to carry on this crusade for many more decades to come. May your tribe increase.

With respectful gratitude.
