Subject: 60th Birthday Wish message for Shri Dr Roychand

Respected Dr Roychand,

It is my great pleasure to congratulate you on your 60th birthday.

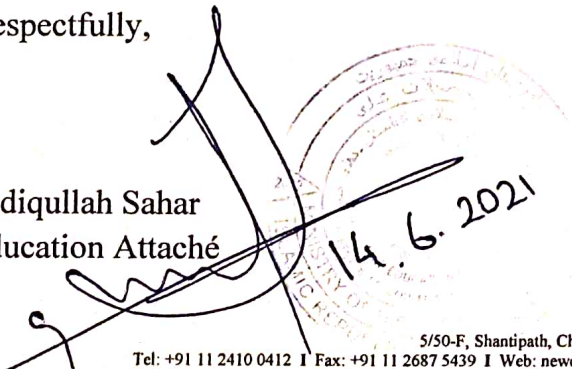

Let me offer my warmest appreciation for you for your longstanding work in providing world-class quality higher education. For more than two decades, the Jain Group of Institutions have been the standard bearer for technical and professional education for people who wants to excel in their career. I am honored of our association with you and JGI, and I applaud the ways in which JGI has changed many people's lives under your guidance and leadership. I am immensely proud of JGI and its uniquely important role in making sure that students receive best education and career opportunities.

With new outreach initiatives, new programs and new opportunities for innovation and entrepreneurship provided at JGI, I know JGI will educate, employ and empower more students and youths for years to come. The success JGI has brought to its students and the global community is remarkable, and I hold it as a top priority to encourage this progress. I applaud the work and effort of the JGI faculty and students who continue to move our countries and societies' forward with their commitment to education and success in the workplace.

Once again, congratulations on your 60th birthday.

Respectfully,

Sediqullah Sahar
